

I. University Requirements: 25 Credit Hours*Compulsory, 12 Credit Hours; Electives, 13 Credit Hours

1	0900100	Swimming	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			0	0

This course is compulsory for all AUM students and as an outcome of this course a student must be able to swim as a prerequisite for graduation. The course can be taken during any semester of the study duration of the student. A swimming test will be done to see which student knows how to swim, in case the student passes the test he/she may be exempted from the course. The objectives of this course is to educate students the basic skills of dealing with water, floating, respiration and breast swimming, in addition to the technical aspects and rules of this game.

2	0900101	Sports I	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			1	0

AUM is committed to providing quality education on the basis of a holistic approach, focusing on the whole person in order to promote and develop students' full capabilities, talents and personalities. With this approach in mind UM has developed several one credit hour courses in sports and social/cultural development to fulfill its vision and mission mentioned above. In this course a student has to choose one of the sports that he/she likes such as: physical fitness, football (soccer), basketball, handball, volleyball, ground tennis, table tennis, squash, badminton, karate, taekwondo, etc... The aim of this course is to educate students the basic skills of the sport chosen, in addition to the technical aspects and rules of the chosen sport. The course aims at raising the level of general physical fitness of students. Swimming is not one of the choices in this course.

3	0900110	Cultural Development I	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			1	0

The objective of this course is to develop the talents, skills and capabilities of students in a variety of social/cultural activities that will enable her/him to open up to society and the world at large. The course also aims at raising the level of awareness and appreciation of the student's chosen activity such as music, oration, painting, drawing, calligraphy, chess, reading, writing, journalism, computer, languages, business, engineering, as well as issues related to environmental, governance, democracy, health, society and others. Students may invite well known artists, poets, authors, economists and public figures for lectures, seminars and debates. All university professors will be involved in delivering this course as they will assign research topics to students using various means. It is expected that each student will write an essay showing what he/she has achieved and what the outcomes of the research study are.

4	0900111	Military Science	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			3	0

The course focuses on strategic concepts and field training.

5	0900112	Civic Education	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			3	0

This course aims at raising the socio-political level of national awareness, and promoting the democratic sensation through the presentation of Jordan's modern history since World War I. It also deals with the analysis of Jordan's Constitution, the mechanism of interaction among the legislative, justice and executive authorities, with emphasis on the role of press and media in the democratic activity. The course sheds light on the concept of society and economy knowledge.

6	0900120	Arabic Communication Skills (1)	3 CH	PREREQ:	0900097
			3	0

This course aims at enhancing university students' basic skills in Arabic, reading, writing, listening, and speaking, through studying selected literary texts. Emphasis is placed on the structure of the Arabic sentence, its most common derivatives, and its most common artistic forms.

7	0900130	English Communication Skills (1)	3 CH	PREREQ:	0900099
			3	0

This course is designed to help students enhance the four basic skills in English, namely: reading, writing, speaking, and listening through adopting contemporary teaching pedagogy that revolves around student-centered classes. On-going and intensity of exposure to the English language within its experiential context is also adopted. The course provides essential information about grammatical forms and structures used in real communicative situations and relevant to the students' immediate life, building their fluency. Stimulating and informative passages are selected to improve students' reading comprehension ability and to widen their horizons. Exercises and semi-guided paragraphs and essays are used to improve their writing skills.

8	0900113	Interpersonal and Intercultural Communication	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			3	0

This course focuses on developing students' soft skills particularly in the fields of communication and leadership in large and small group environments. We will examine the process of sending and receiving messages between people whose cultural background could lead them to interpret verbal and nonverbal signs differently. Emphasis will be given on the development of basic public speaking skills (i.e., overcoming nervousness, audience analysis, speech preparation, organization, writing and delivery. You will be given opportunities to write and organize informative and persuasive speeches and to be competent in meeting impromptu speaking situations with the use of visual aids to help deliver the information. You will be giving and receiving constructive feedback from your peers. In addition, the course will provide opportunities to practice essential meeting or group leadership skills' situations such as parliamentary procedure, panel discussions and debate. Our efforts to recognize and surmount cultural differences will hopefully open up business opportunities throughout the world and maximize the contribution of all the employees in a diverse workforce. Further practical features of this course are writing CV's and handling job interviews.

9	0900131	English Communication Skills (2)	3 CH	PREREQ:	0900130
			3	0

This course is a continuation of English Communication Skills (1). It aims at further enhancing students' basic language skills: reading, writing, listening, and speaking.

10	0900140	Appreciation of Art	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			3	0

This course focuses on various types of Art, painting, drawing, sculpture, etc. It teaches students how to discern good level Art from low level Art.

11	0900141	Appreciation of Music	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			3	0

This course introduces the student to reading musical notes. It introduces various musical instruments, and teaches the student how to appreciate the various types of music: Arabic, foreign, classical, folk, pop, etc.

12	0900114	Civilization and Thought	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			3	0

This course will take us through a historical journey in which we visit different great civilizations. We study their birth, the thought prevailing in the particular civilization and the extent to which it advanced and the reasons for its demise.

13	0900115	Social Ethics	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			3	0

The sources and assumptions for our own ethics will be discussed. A variety of ethical approaches will be used to evaluate social and political issues in our current society. The aims of this course are to have us become appreciative of our own moral traditions, to use constructive critical thinking, to help us reinforce our own values, and to recognize the ways in which differing values affect our lives.

14	0900150	Introduction to Economics	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			3	0

This course is designed for Business students in order to introduce them to advanced topics in finance, it begins with an introduction to the relationship between risk and return in order to freshen-up facts about this relationship, and next, it introduces a framework for learning how to read financial statements. Again the relationship between risk and return will be addressed. We then turn our attention to Capital-Budgeting models. Forecasting and Short-Term Financial Planning and Working Capital Management will be covered after shedding some light about the process of capital budgeting, and then we will elaborate major topics in Financial Ratios and Firm Performance in order to learn how to raise capital and determine the optimal Capital Structure.

15	0900160	Entrepreneurship and Enterprises	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			3	0

This course introduces students to the concept of entrepreneurship, and the pursuit of value-creating opportunities without regard to the current control of assets. The course examines the entrepreneur’s approach to life and the knowledge and skills necessary for that approach to create value. Students will be able to recognize and evaluate entrepreneurial opportunities. At the end of the course, students will develop a business model for one of those opportunities.

16	0900161	Creativity and Innovation (1)	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			3	0

Pending...

17	0900162	Creativity and Innovation (1)	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			3	0

Pending...

18	0900116	Bio-Ethics	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			3	0

Bioethics studies the reasonableness of human choices and actions that typically occur in medical practice. In this course, we will study the particular subsection of this realm that covers issues involving medical care and biotechnology. Our consideration will extend to other areas where human life and death are involved, such as euthanasia, abortion, genes, genomes, and health care. These issues cluster roughly around five concepts: reproduction and birth, death, genetics, healthcare, and the role of the physician. We will examine these issues from as many sides as possible, weighing the reasons people have for believing them with a mind towards forming a well-supported position and creating a world in which we can all live. The course aims to develop moral wisdom and moral virtue.

19	0900170	Energy and the Environment	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			3	0

This course focuses on population growth, energy demand, energy renewable resources (solar energy, wind energy, photovoltaic energy, hydraulic energy, and bio-energy), non-renewable energy resources (oil, coal, natural gas), nuclear energy, environmental impacts (global warming, ozone depletion, acidification, hazardous air pollution, indoor air pollution), life cycle assessment (LCA), green buildings, and LEED certified buildings.

20	0900171	Science and Society	3 CH	PREREQ:	None
			3	0

This course focuses on the scientific and technological advances and their impact on society and social behavior. It is intended to highlight where science and technology and society meet. It explores the advances of science and technology and their impact on society and social behavior. It discusses approaches to analyzing social dimensions of recent advances in areas such as genetics, environment, and internet. The course explores how the practice and results of science – knowledge and technology – affect and is shaped by our social, cultural, economic, and political lives. Students can address the effects of science on society by conducting group projects that address the needs of local communities and the capacity to utilize scientific knowledge to promote the health and well-being of the individual, community and society. The course will be run primarily as group discussions with high expectations of student involvement.

21	0900180	Computer Skills	3 CH	PREREQ:	0900096
			1	0

This course begins with procedural programming in C++. It then gradually introduces object-oriented programming features and the C++ language syntax that enables first-time programmers to use them. Specific topic coverage includes Data Types, Declarations, and Displays; Assignments and Interactive Input, Conversions, Selection; Repetition, Modularity Using Functions; Overloading; Arrays; Pointers; Strings as Character Arrays; Structure types; Introduction to classes; Class functions, and Inheritance and Composition; and I/O File Streams.

22	0900181	Computer Skills (Art and Design)	3 CH	PREREQ:	0900096
			1	0

Pending...

23	0900201	Sports (2)	3 CH	PREREQ:	0900101
			1	0

This course is a continuation of Sports (1). If the student chooses the same sport he practiced in Sports (1), the course will focus on the advanced practical application of skills and strategies, international law, and health issues (nutrition, sport injuries, age-related illnesses) to improve the physical fitness of the student. If, on the other hand, the student chooses a sport he didn't take in Sports (1), it will be studied according to the description of Sports (1).

24	0900202	Sports (3)	3 CH	PREREQ:	0900201
			1	0

This course is a continuation of Sports (2). The student has to choose a sport different from the sport he selected in Sports (1) and Sports (2).

25	0900210	Cultural Development (2)	3 CH	PREREQ:	0900110
			1	0

This course is a continuation of Cultural Development (1). The same course description of Cultural Development (1) applies to this course, but a different topic has to be selected.

26	0900211	Cultural Development (3)	3 CH	PREREQ:	0900210
			1	0

This course is a continuation of Cultural Development (2). The same course description of Cultural Development (1) applies to this course, but a different topic has to be selected.

II. Faculty Requirements: 21 Credit Hours

Compulsory Requirements: 21 Credit Hours

1	0903103	Mathematics for Business	3 CH	PREREQ:	Non
			3	0

This course introduces students to a selected range of fundamental concepts in mathematics that can be used in the context of business and enterprises. The course covers the topics of linear equations, quadratic functions, matrices and their wider applications in business, and differentiation. The course is delivered throughout lectures, classroom exercises and home works..

2	0500201	Business Research Methods	3 CH	PREREQ:	0903103/0903182
			3	0

The course involves establishing objectives and gathering relevant information to obtain the answer to a business issue. It provides the theoretical and practical base for a straightforward research project. It covers the fundamentals of the research proposal, literature review, and qualitative and quantitative methods. The course first emphasizes the research process and the importance of the literature review. It then focuses upon the appropriateness of specific research methods. Overall, this course equips students with the skills and expertise to develop and implement a research.

3	0501101	Principles of Accounting (1)	3 CH	PREREQ:	Non
			3	0

This course is designed to provide an understanding of how organizations collect, create and use accounting information, both to guide their own activities internally and to communicate with parties external to themselves. The course develops students' analytical skills through a problem-solving approach to accounting-related aspects of business control, planning and internal and external performance appraisal. In addition, the course introduces students to the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) environment.

4	0502101	Principles of Management	3 CH	PREREQ:	Non
			3	0

This course is an introductory course examining the role of the manager in modern business. It covers different managerial styles and highlights the characteristics of effective management style. It also differentiates between different organizational structures and identifies environmental issues as they impact the managerial style. It also discusses the managerial roles with organizations in terms of planning, organizing, controlling and evaluating. Discuss and describe the leadership skills, motivation techniques, and effective teamwork

5	0503101	Principles of Finance (1)	3 CH	PREREQ:	0501101
			3	0

This course provides an overview of business financial management. Emphasis is on financial statement analysis, time value of money, management of cash flow, risk and return, and sources of financing. Upon completion, students should be able to interpret and apply the principles of financial management

6	0504101	Principles of Marketing	3 CH	PREREQ:	Non
			3	0

The major emphasis of this course is on key concepts and issues underlying the modern practice of marketing. The role of marketing in the organization and in society is examined and analyzed. This course focuses on application of current theories and concepts in effectively marketing goods and services to define target customers from a domestic and global perspective. The course content includes marketing in a macro and micro context, the marketing concept, buyer behavior, and marketing organization, market research, identifying target customers, developing product offers, branding, pricing, marketing communications, and distribution channels. Marketing is critically examined from the perspective of the consumer, economy, technology, legal/political issues, and ethical/social responsibility.

7	0505101	Principles of Risk Management	3 CH	PREREQ:	Non
			3	0

This course provides students with a comprehensive understanding of the basic and primary concepts of Risk Management. This includes: the meaning of risk, types of risk, sources and causes of risk, and the risk management process. Ultimately, students are expected to be able to identify, assess, and utilize the most efficient and cost effective techniques to treat, manage and control risk. The course also draws on the ISO31000 of Risk Management.

III. Department Requirements: 87 Credit Hours

A. Compulsory Requirements: 57 Credit Hours

1	0503211	Principles of Finance (2)	3 CH	PREREQ:	0503101
			3	0

This course is an in-depth analysis of financial considerations relating to maximizing the value of a corporation. It examines the setting of financial and corporate goals in terms of maximizing shareholders' equity, optimal financing policy and relationships among dividend policy, debt levels, capital costs, return on investments, and growth. The course will also analyze corporate financial policy, including capital structure, cost of capital, dividend policy, and related issues

2	0503212	Corporate Financial Management	3 CH	PREREQ:	0503101
			3	0

This course is designed for students interested in corporate financial management. Its principal goals are to provide the concepts and techniques required to make investment and financing decisions within the firm. Topics covered include leasing, mergers and acquisitions, corporate reorganizations, financial planning, and working capital management, and some other selected topics. These include investment decision making under uncertainty, cost of capital, capital structure, pricing of selected financial instruments and corporate liabilities, and dividend policy.

3	0503220	Money and Banking	3 CH	PREREQ:	0500101
			3	0

Money and banking emphasizes the financial system, banking industrial and other financial institutions, central banks, monetary policy and financial stability. The course studies the role that money and interest rates play in the operation of the economy. The aim is to give students an overview of the financial system and an understanding of the theory and practice of monetary policy.

4	0503240	Risk Management and Insurance	3 CH	PREREQ:	0903103
			3	0

This course explores the principles of risk management and insurance. The course provides an understanding of the foundations, applications and selection of insurance. Fundamentals of life and health insurance as well as property and liability insurance will be included. Enterprise risk management for corporations, financial risk management, overview of employee benefits, and strategic policies to mitigate risk will also be covered.

5	0503241	Financial Mathematics	3 CH	PREREQ:	0903103
			3	0

Financial Mathematics is a building block to learners in the field of finance. The topics expose the user to fundamental concepts such as cash flows, present value, future value, yield and probability that form the basis for further advanced learning.

6	0503310	Financial Analysis and Reporting	3 CH	PREREQ:	0503101
			3	0

The objective of this course is to provide managers facility with the fundamental methods used in financial analysis. The set of methods include: time value of money, stock and bond pricing, net present value, risk measurements, risk and return, the capital asset pricing model, and basic capital budgeting. The emphasis is on financial statement analysis and interpretation of financial disclosures to help improve risk assessment, forecasting, and decision-making

7	0503311	Microfinance	3 CH	PREREQ:	0503101
			3	0

This course offers an economic analysis of the financial resource management for a small business. It examines issues such as financial statements and financial planning, capital budgeting and management, risk, investment, profitability, and forecasting. The major objective of this course is to acquaint students with the financial functions of a small business, and the ways of optimizing the outcome of those functions

8	0503332	Bank Management	3 CH	PREREQ:	0503101
			3	0

This course covers the topic of financial management of commercial banks and other financial intermediaries. It involves the examination of the banking structure and current regulatory environment taking into consideration specific techniques of evaluating risks, liability management, and determining asset composition.

9	0503321	Money and Capital Markets	3 CH	PREREQ:	0503101
			3	0

This course focuses on money, financial markets, institutions and instruments. It will examine the development of modern financial markets, with emphasis on the factors that determine interest rates; institutional characteristics and pricing mechanisms of various interest-sensitive securities.

10	0503330	Investment and Portfolio Management	3 CH	PREREQ:	0503211
			3	0

This course begins by describing the investment environment, the various developments in investment theory, and the principles and practices of valuation. The analyses of fixed-income securities, equity securities, derivative securities, together with other securities such as unit trusts, will then be discussed. The theories, principles, and techniques of portfolio management will also be presented. The topics include the portfolio investment process, asset allocation, portfolio construction, and portfolio performance evaluation. Throughout the course, a global perspective will be emphasized.

11	0503331	Financial Engineering	3 CH	PREREQ:	0503330
			3	0

The purpose of this course is to provide the student with the necessary skills to value and to employ options, futures, forward , swap , and related financial contracts. In order to provide a useful treatment of these topics in an environment that is changing rather rapidly, it is necessary to stress the fundamentals and to explore the topics at a technical level.

12	0503410	International Financial Management	3 CH	PREREQ:	0500101
			3	0

This course introduces the global financial environment, agency problems and corporate governance, international financial markets, exchange rate behaviour. The topics covered include the foreign exchange market; foreign exchange risk management; international parity conditions; currency forecasting; international financing; international financial markets; multinational working capital management, international investment management; political and country risk analysis; and currency futures and options

13	0503430	Real Estate Finance	3 CH	PREREQ:	0503212
			3	0

This course examines the fundamentals of real estate finance and development from a legal perspective. The course serves as a foundation course for real estate majors and provides an introduction to real estate for other students. It attempts to develop skills in using legal concepts in a real estate transactional setting. The course will be of interest to students contemplating careers in accounting, real estate development, real estate finance, city planning, or banking.

14	0503340	Financial Risk Management	3 CH	PREREQ:	0503101
			3	0

The course will focus on understanding financial risk management strategies, and examples used may come from areas such as commodities, insurance, financial markets, agriculture, and banking and credit.

The objectives and learning outcomes of this course include developing analytical skills in financial risk management, along with writing skills and presentation skills for analytical research. Prerequisites: basic undergraduate knowledge of statistics and mathematics.

15	0503441	Financial Securities	3 CH	PREREQ:	0503101
			3	0

This course presents and analyses financial Securities, such as various types of stock and bonds as well as forwards, futures, swaps, and options. These instruments have become extremely popular investment tools over the past 30 years, as they allow one to tailor the amount and kind of return and risk one takes, be it risk associated with changes in interest rates, exchange rates, stock prices, commodity prices, inflation, etc. They are used by institutions as well as investors, sometimes to hedge (reduce) unwanted risks, sometimes to take on additional risk motivated by views regarding future market movements.

16	0503322	Islamic Banking and Finance	3 CH	PREREQ:	0500101
			3	0

This course aims at enabling the candidate to deeply understand the Islamic Banking operating system and the concepts of Islamic Finance through participation in class discussions and activities. Market participant candidates are to be well-equipped with an excellent background about Islamic Finance and its innovative products. An introductory background on the related Islamic concepts is offered linking them to the emerging banking and financial issues

17	0503431	Behavioral Finance	3 CH	PREREQ:	0503101
			3	0

Behavioral Finance is considered by many to be one of the most important emerging topics in finance. The purpose of this course is to provide an understanding of the behavioral biases that individual's exhibit and the effects of these biases on financial markets. Standard finance theory assumes that individuals such as investors or financial managers are rational expected utility maximizers. Behavioral finance argues that some financial phenomena can be better understood admitting that some investors are not fully rational and arbitrageurs have limits to how aggressively they could trade. A number of stock market anomalies will be presented and analyzed.

			3 CH	PREREQ:	Completion of 90 Cr. Hrs.
18	0503491	Practical Training	3	0

The aim of practical training is to enable students to practice the learned theories and concepts within a business organization. Students from any business discipline undergo a training that is closely monitored by an instructor and the management/supervisor of the organization to ensure that the student cultivates the sound professional attitudes and ethics needed in the workplace.

			3 CH	PREREQ:	Department Approval
19	0503492	Graduation Project	3	0

This course takes the form of a dissertation carried out by graduating students in partial fulfillment of the BSc in Management, Accounting, Marketing, Risk Management, and Banking and Finance programs. The course is designed to train students to undertake scientific research and bridge the gap between theory and practice in management, accounting, marketing, risk management, and finance. Students choose an appropriate research project, justify it, develop it, develop their research methodology and analyze, synthesize and evaluate information, then communicate significant knowledge and understanding. The research should be related to the program. An academic advisor is assigned to advise the students at various stages of the project.

B. Department Elective Requirements: 9 Credit Hours

			2 CH	PREREQ:	0501101
1	0501112	Principles of Accounting (2)	3	0

This course is considered as an extension of Principles of Accounting (1). It is designed to provide a complete picture of financial accounting. It includes: Accounting for receivables, inventories, cash, accounting problems relating to long-lived assets, short-term liabilities, and corporations accounting.

			2 CH	PREREQ:	0501112
2	0501211	Intermediate Accounting (1)	3	0

This course is designed to broaden students understanding about financial accounting. It includes issues related to: Introduction to financial accounting theory, measurements of the elements of financial statements, income statement and irregular items, the balance sheet, the cash flow statement according to international financial reporting standards.

			2 CH	PREREQ:	0501112
3	0501341	Accounting for Financial Institutions	3	0

This course introduces accounting students to the fundamentals of accounting for financial institutions such as banks, insurance companies. More specifically topics include types of banks, the development of the banking profession and its importance to the national economy. Emphasis is placed on the accounting practices in the different divisions of a commercial bank, and its financial statements. In addition, accounting for different types of insurance companies will be covered.

4	0502413	Business Ethics and Social Responsibility	2 CH	PREREQ:	0502101
			3	0

This course aims at shedding light on one of the most important contemporary topics in the field of business organizations management, which is that concerned with studying the impact as well as the implications of the different strategies and decisions taken by business organizations managers on the various stakeholders of the organization, in addition to the general environmental factors, in terms of political, economic, social, as well as technological factors.

5	0503312	Financial Strategies and Policies	1 CH	PREREQ:	0503212
			0	3

With the quickening rate of technological, demographic, institutional, and political change and globalization, managers, consultants, and investment bankers face increasingly turbulent and complex business environments. This course investigates the use of financial instruments and strategies to achieve a sustainable competitive advantage and create value. The course explores the relationships among corporate strategy, corporate finance, and financial innovation, and should be of interest to managers who aspire to use financial strategy and tools to support their strategic choices and to those who will be advising corporations on how to achieve their financial goals.

6	0503411	Financial Information Systems	1 CH	PREREQ:	0503211
			0	3

This course highlights current issues in information systems with an emphasis on practical application. Also, other issues are covered such as: design and operation of accounting systems; relevance of data processing and statistical methods to the system of financial information and control.

7	0503432	Mergers and Acquisitions	1 CH	PREREQ:	0503212
			0	3

The course provides an in-depth assessment of all major features of public and private merger and acquisition transactions including defining the acquisition target, the process of the acquisition acquiring turnaround candidate, structuring and financing the acquisition.

C. Ancillary Requirements: 21 Credit Hours

1	0903182	Statistics for Business	3 CH	PREREQ:	0903103
			3	0

In this course, the students are focused on the tools and methods for effective use of data in problem solving and making management decision. It emphasizes data management and proper ways to communicate the findings in an executive manner. This course covers probability, decision analysis, continuous distributions, hypothesis testing, ANOVA, correlation and simple linear regression. Exercises and examples are drawn from marketing, finance, and operations management.

2	0500101	Microeconomics	3 CH	PREREQ:	Non
			3	0

:Microeconomics 500101

This is an introductory course that teaches the fundamentals of microeconomics. This course introduces microeconomic concepts and analysis, supply and demand analysis, theories of the firm and individual behavior, competition and monopoly, and economics of developing countries.

3	0500102	Macroeconomics	3 CH	PREREQ:	0500101
			3	0

Provide an examination of the scope and method of economic analysis. This course also includes topics such as economic resources, monetary system, income determination, and economic growth and stability. Macroeconomics deals with the effects of government policies on income, output, and employment. Specifically, Macroeconomics is concerned with Fiscal and Monetary policies which effect unemployment, inflation, and the business cycle...

4	0500301	International Economics	3 CH	PREREQ:	0500102
			3	0

This course begins with an introduction to International Economics. Next, it introduces a framework for learning about Tools of Analysis for International Trade Models. We then turn our attention to Tariffs & Nontariff Barriers and Arguments for Protection, International Trade and Economic Growth will be covered as an important topic, then we will elaborate major topics in The Balance of Payments, The Foreign Exchange Market, and International Monetary Systems. The final section of the course provides an introduction to some of the more advanced topics in International Banking, Debt and Risk.

5	0502314	Business Law	3 CH	PREREQ:	Non
			3	0

The aim of this course is to review basic legal principles and sources of contract law, background of law and legal theory. The following topics are covered in detail: formation of contracts, modifications, terminations, remedies, award law, pricing, patent, business organizations, company law, sales of goods, and transfer of ownership rights, employment and health and safety laws.

6	0502413	Business Ethics and Social Responsibility	3	CH	PREREQ:	0502101
			3	0

This course aims at shedding light on one of the most important contemporary topics in the field of business organizations management, which is that concerned with studying the impact as well as the implications of the different strategies and decisions taken by business organizations managers on the various stakeholders of the organization, in addition to the general environmental factors, in terms of political, economic, social, as well as technological factors.

7	0503420	Managerial Economics	3	CH	PREREQ:	0500101
			3	0

An overview of the fundamental concepts in microeconomics as they apply to managers in a global environment, the course covers the use of quantitative and computer applications to determine optimal levels of output, resource usage and capacity planning, application of appropriate decision-making models, and mathematical tools for optimal business decisions